8. BRIEFLY INTRODUCE YOURSELF: Search committees need to know something of the aspects of ministry you enjoy, the gifts/skills/experiences that you bring to your ministry and your hopes for your future ministry. Please use only the space below.

I am a multi-talented, diversely experienced, self motivated visionary with refined organizational and administrative skills, yet insightful enough to know there is always room for further growth and development. I am an avid Jeopardy fan, adventurous- enjoy traveling, walking, and contact sports; love music, singing, and enjoy live theatre performances.

From a professional standpoint, I will always be a pastor in training, a PCUSA certified Christian educator, an ordained elder. I am a former assistant Ecumenical Resource Center Staff Person, former Assistant Bereavement Coordinator, and a second career person.

Additional training include: National Resource Center Director, CPE, Hospice, Guardian ad Litem [child advocate], Spiritual Formation - Logos, Journey to Adulthood, Princeton Youth Forum, etc., Prepare/Enrich Marriage Counseling, and POINT Advocacy.

My diverse experiences include serving on every level within the Presbyterian Church, serving with both the Christian education and Peace Making National Planning Teams; Synod and presbytery representatives, Vice-President of the Christian education association, Committee on Representation; locally serving congregations in South Carolina, Florida, and North Dakota providing leadership in a variety of capacities to include working with the first CANACOM – Joint Mission Action Team [ask for details, I will gladly share].

From the community prospective, I have assisted with fundraising or volunteered to work with: The Children Sabbath, Cerebral Palsy, Cancer, March of Dimes, Alzheimer, Diabetes, UNICEF, Heart Disease, Hunger - Souper Bowl of Caring, Children's Garden, Shelter Meals, Starvation, Run/walk for Hunger, Habitat for Humanity, Budget planning, Elementary School Reader, etc.

In the immediate future, I look forward taking the ordination examinations and remaining open to the leading of the Holy Spirit.
