2018-2019 WADDEL FELLOWSHIP INTERN | NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION

The Waddel Fellowship at the Presbyterian Student Center at UGA, is a vocational discernment program for college students and recent college graduates who are exploring a possible call to ministry. The program includes up to 12 fellows and one intern each year. The fellows are placed in supervised ministry contexts (local congregations and non-profit agencies) to work approximately 3 hrs per week under the supervision of a member of that ministry's staff. The Waddel Intern is tasked with facilitating instances of intentional discernment with the fellows in one-on-one meetings, Bible study, theological reflection, an annual retreat to Columbia Theological Seminary, and a graduation ceremony at the end of the spring semester. The intern also stays in conversation with each fellow's ministry supervisor in order to have a 360 degree view of the ministry experience. These responsibilities should take approximately 20 hours per week.

The Intern's remaining 20 hours are given to her or his own vocational discernment, which may include applying to seminary (when applicable), self-directed study, assisting in all aspects of the campus ministry, particularly those which align with the intern's particular gifts and passions for ministry, and regular meetings with the Campus Minister to evaluate the work being done, and process the experience gained through ministry.
