

SAVE THE DATE!

Join Columbia Theological Seminary
Sunday afternoon,
October 20, 2019 at the historic Robert Mills House in Columbia, South Carolina

TO COUNT OUR DAYS: TO CELEBRATE OUR STORIES

We'll enjoy dinner on the grounds, tours, fellowship, worship, and friends.

Dr. Erskine Clarke will lecture from his new book,
To Count Our Days: A History of Columbia Theological Seminary.

Please visit www.CTSnet.edu/to-count-our-days for more information and for tickets

*It was a Columbia Seminary graduate who co-founded Montreat.
It was a Columbia Seminary professor who started Thornwell Children's Home and Presbyterian College.
It was a Columbia Seminary graduate who began Souper Bowl of Caring.
It was Columbia, South Carolina that formed Columbia Seminary.
Let's talk about our history and celebrate our future!*

Dear Friends in Trinity Presbytery,

You are invited to a special gathering to celebrate our Presbyterian roots in South Carolina on Sunday afternoon, October 20, 2019, on the grounds of the Robert Mills house, where Columbia Seminary spent its first hundred years.

"To Count our Days: To Celebrate Our Stories" will feature a stimulating lecture from Columbia Seminary professor emeritus, Dr. Erskine Clarke, titled: "Presbyterian Gentlemen, Enslaved African Americans, and an Antebellum Southern Mansion," followed by a worship service celebrating the wisdom and inspiration of seminary leaders through the generations, and featuring a mass choir and talented local musicians. Our time together will culminate with a delicious dinner on the grounds featuring recipes from local congregations ($20 adults; free for kids under 12).

This event will be a homecoming, showcasing the history of Presbyterians in South Carolina and beyond.

We request your RSVP by October 10, so we can prepare accordingly. Will you help us get the word out among your friends? You can see the complete schedule, purchase tickets and more here:

www.CTSnet.edu/to-count-our-days

Grace and Peace,

Julie Bailey
Rev. Julie Bailey

Director, Alumni & Church Relations

baileyj@ctsnet.edu or 404-687-4593

P.S. To join the mass choir or submit church cookbooks, contact me!